5. Add Section 3.3 through 3.3.4 as follows:

3.3 PURPOSE – HOME VISITING

- 3.3.1 The Healthy Families America (HFA) evidence-based home visiting (EBHV) model, developed in 1992 by Prevent Child Abuse America, is based on 12 critical elements. These critical elements, derived from more than 30 years of research, ensure the program is effective in working with overburdened, at-risk families. The model is operationalized through a series of Best Practice Standards that provide a solid structure for quality yet offers implementing programs the flexibility to design services specifically to meet the unique needs of families and communities. Model fidelity is assured through a comprehensive accreditation process.
- 3.3.2 HFA has a strong research base, which includes randomized control trials and well- designed quasi-experimental research. To date, research and evaluation indicates impressive outcomes. Reviews of more than 15 evaluation studies of HFA programs in 12 states produced the following outcomes:
 - a. Reduced child maltreatment.
 - b. Increased utilization of prenatal care and decreased pre-term, low weight babies.
 - c. Improved parent-child interaction and school readiness.
 - d. Decreased dependency on welfare, or TANF (Temporary Assistance to Needy Families) and other social services.
 - e. Increased access to primary care medical services; and
 - f. Increased immunization rates.
- 3.3.3 HFA program goals are to:
 - a. Build and sustain community partnerships to systematically engage overburdened families in home visiting services.
 - b. Cultivate and strengthen nurturing parent child relationships.
 - c. Promote healthy childhood growth and development; and
 - d. Enhance family functioning by reducing risk and building protective factors.
- 3.3.4 The HFA model focuses on low-income (185% of federal poverty level or below), first time pregnant women (primiparous), women pregnant with subsequent pregnancies (multiparous), and/or primary caregivers (PCGs) and their index child(ren) until the child reaches age three (3). The first home visit must occur either prenatally or within the first three (3) months after birth.
