Re: Setting a Public Hearing for the Installation of a Drop Ceiling at the Columbia/Boone County Public Health and Human Services Facility

Executive Summary

Setting a public hearing for May 7, 2018 for the proposed installation of a new suspended ceiling system at the Columbia/Boone County Public Health & Human Services facility to combat the transfer of noise in all work areas.

Discussion

The Department of Public Health and Senior Services (PHHS) is located in a building with an open ceiling with exposed air handling units. While the design may be aesthetically pleasing, the air handlers are quite noisy and don't lead to optimum working conditions. Thus, PHHS wishes to add a drop ceiling in all portions of the building where office space is located to assist in noise reduction, and may provide for better energy efficiency. The work will include not only the installation of the ceiling tiles, but will also require dropping sprinkler heads, lights, duct work, motion sensors, and public address speakers.

Simon Associates of Columbia, MO was hired to provide preliminary design, develop construction documents, coordinate the bidding process with the City purchasing division, and construction management for the installation of a new suspended ceiling system at a cost of $17,730. The construction cost estimate is $191,000 and the work is expected to take 10 weeks to complete.

Fiscal Impact

Short-Term Impact: Agreement with Simon Associates was for a not to exceed amount of $17,730. The estimated cost for construction is $191,000 and will be paid from FY2017 general fund savings as well as previous year's departmental savings.

Long-Term Impact: None
