Re: Source Water Protection Plan Task Force

Executive Summary

This report is seeking Council direction regarding future activity for the Source Water Protection Plan Task Force. Staff is seeking direction on whether to prepare legislation to either dissolve the Source Water Protection Plan Task Force or re-establish as a standing committee.

Discussion

In May of 2010, the Council established a Source Water Protection Plan Task Force to develop a Source Water Protection Plan for the City of Columbia's water supply. The final plan was approved in 2013. The Chairman, John Betz, presented the last annual report to the Water and Light Advisory Board in March of 2017. There are some on-going items identified in the Plan (Columbia SWPP Task Force Action Item List).

With the resignation of the Chairman from this Task Force, effective February 15th, 2018, Staff is seeking Council direction on legislation whether to dissolve the Source Water Protection Plan Task Force with any ongoing work to be taken over by the water utility staff or re-establish as a standing committee.

At the March 7th, 2018 Water and Light Advisory Board meeting, Staff requested input from the board members. After discussion, the board passed a motion to recommend the Source Water Protection Plan Task Force be dissolved with any ongoing work to be taken over by the water utility staff.

Staff recommends a resolution to dissolve the Source Water Protection Plan Task Force.
