IV. OLD BUSINESS

Discussion of Code Book review meetings:

Discussion on how each code review committee meeting shall be posted, how minutes should be taken, dates and times meetings should be held. John Simon made the suggestion that they hold one meeting a month as a whole committee rather than sub committees. All members were undecided on all aspects of when meetings shall be held, how often, and as separate committees or as a whole. It was unanimous to wait and decide until they get the code books, look them over, and make final decision at the next Building Construction Code Commission meeting being held October 22, 2018 on when and how the code review committee meetings shall take place.
