Introduction

Maintaining priorities

The annual budget is the City's outline of all planned activities for the fiscal year. Many of these activities are chosen by our citizens, and some are defined by law. Surprisingly, some of these activities have been done for a century and others are brand new. The City of Columbia has undertaken many new initiatives in the past several years in order to respond to the needs of our ever-changing community. We hear increasing demands for the City to address concerns such as affordable housing, homelessness, employee pay, infrastructure and public safety.

This document details the financial impacts of the services we provide, the work we perform, and the myriad of municipal initiatives we undertake. The fiscal year 2025 (FY25) budget includes funding for many new initiatives, and some which are continuing from previous years due to their size and scope.

While the annual budget is a guide that we will use throughout the fiscal year, the information it contains is only a momentary view. A municipality as large as Columbia has dozens of accounts and thousands of transactions per day. So, while this budget is an important tool in our processes, we have to remember that it has to be flexible. As the City's needs change, so does the budget. We have processes and controls in place that will allow us to make necessary changes as needs arise while still maintaining fiscal responsibility and stability. These financial controls dictate how each dollar is spent and how each revenue is received, and they will allow us to build the framework for financial success.

The City's Office of Housing and Neighborhood Services will complete its first full fiscal year in FY25. This office focuses on preserving and rehabilitating our city's existing attainable housing options; increasing investment in, and incentivizing the production of, new affordable housing; and expanding rental assistance, down-payment assistance, single-family home repair and other housing programs that help make housing attainable to all.

Columbia has also increased its focus on homelessness. The City continues to provide year-round shelter through a partnership with Room at the Inn, as well as access to shelter through various other community partners. The City is committed to assisting and partnering with groups to help our unhoused population or those who are at risk of becoming unhoused.

The Divert Program, which launched midway through FY24, will also benefit from continued funding and focus in FY25. This program provides a compassionate approach to justice by allowing our City public safety staff to refer people with health and social needs to a City Social Services Specialist who can link them with community resources. The goal of the Divert program is to reduce the burden of health and social issues on our public safety departments while improving outcomes and the lives of our residents. In order to meet increased demand, funding will expand in FY25 by $100,000 to include an additional staff member.

Manager's Message

The most important priority for the past two years at the City has been our employees. Without the dedication of highly skilled staff, we would not be able to accomplish the many programs and initiatives outlined in this budget. In fact, it is our people, the staff we employ, that make this organization run.

In FY24, the City adjusted its pay ranges to lead the market by approximately 6.4%. It is critical the City continues to prioritize employee compensation in order to attract, retain and maintain staff levels. Our ongoing commitment to employees can be seen by the increase to our personnel budget, from the total anticipated personnel budget in FY24 at $149 million, to the proposed personnel budget for FY25 at $164 million, for expecting an increase of around $15 million (or 10%) in FY25.

New opportunities

While maintaining legacy services is critical to our citizens, the City is also undertaking some new initiatives. Funding has been set aside to stand up an office to help prevent community violence. This new office, inside the City Manager's Office, will help coordinate efforts within the community to intervene and prevent violence which has devastating effects throughout our community.

The City will also strive to continue to be more data-driven in making decisions. Using data to direct and evaluate decision making helps to reduce costs and adds efficiency. To build on these, the Project Management Office has created new data analyst positions to help track data and apply it to our fiscal processes. Another means of leveraging this data is through software. The City will invest in better software systems to aid these efforts while applying standardization across departments.

The City's Housing and Neighborhood Services Office will create a housing trust fund. This fund will be leveraged to accomplish our goal of improving attainable housing opportunities in Columbia. The fund will be established through the use of General Fund unrestricted reserves. City staff are crafting a plan for the long-term sustainability of the fund which will provide flexibility to serve the community's most critical housing needs.

Investing in infrastructure continues to be a priority in fiscal year 25. Upgrades to the Water Treatment Plant and West Ash Pump station are ongoing. In FY 25, the addition of a water tower in the southwest and continued investment in towers and reservoir maintenance are planned. Approximately $9 million in funding is being reallocated for the installation of five additional electric distribution feeders to improve reliability and accommodate growth. The sewer division is planning to begin five private comment collector elimination projects and replace the Clear Creek force main in FY 25. Approximately $1.8 million in funding for eight storm water drainage projects is included. Solid Waste will be constructing a new vehicle wash facility and funding design of improvements to the Material Recovery Facility. These investments into our future will allow Columbia to better service our community and to better accommodate growth. As always these projects reflect our commitment to ensuring Columbia meets the expectations of our residents and businesses.

Generating additional revenue to keep up with increased costs

Inflation and the continuation of supply chain issues is impacting the City's ability to obtain materials and provide essential services in a timely manner. Our costs for providing the services you need and expect are increasing. While revenues are growing, our expenditures continue to outpace that growth. As a result, we are taking steps to be able to continue providing essential services.

In order to maintain and upgrade our aging infrastructure, the Water Utility is adjusting water rates for all customer accounts at the beginning of FY25. The Water and Light Advisory Board reviewed and approved City staff's recommendation to increase fees necessary for the financial health of the fund. These increases will allow the Utility to provide competitive wages to employees, which helps maintain a highly skilled workforce, as well as making upgrades to the Water Treatment Plant and meet its debt coverage requirements.

Columbia Parks and Recreation is also increasing fees in order to cover the costs of increases in minimum wage, rising cost of materials, supplies and fuel, and increases in utility expenses. These modest fee increases for various recreation programs and rental facilities are expected to generate an additional $250,000 in FY25 for the Parks and Recreation Fund.

The City of Columbia Housing & Neighborhood Services Department will increase fees beginning in January for rental properties. Fees are charged to rental property owners or operators to defray the cost of City inspection and administration of the program. They were previously increased 10 years ago in FY15.

Conclusion

Keeping our commitments to the community is a key force in the development of the budget. With an eye toward the future and the Strategic Plan as our guide, the City will continue to expand services to address the needs of the community while also remaining fiscally responsible. This balance is critical to making the most of our limited resources.

The City has proven its ability to adjust to the changing needs of the community over the past several years. Furthermore, as the community continues to grow, we will face more complex challenges. With the leadership and guidance of the mayor and City Council, work is being done to address complex issues like housing attainability, homelessness and public safety. The FY25 budget will play a vital role in supporting these initiatives.

Lastly, it is with the guidance of our nearly 130,000 residents we have crafted this budget document. My staff and I have used great care to include the many programs and services our residents have come to expect. It is my duty and privilege to ensure we continue to make Columbia the best place to live, work, learn and play.

Sincerely,
