Speed humps! We have no sidewalks, near a school zone, on a cut through street, lots of kids, and dealerships like to test drive on Spencer.

Speed humps are a necessity for Spencer because of the amount of car and foot traffic.

Dog walkers, bicycles, kids getting on and off bus, and kids walking to near by schools are few reason for speed humps. Personal experience: backing out of my driveway and trying to walk to an area to walk safely is challenging due to the amount and speed of the traffic. Examples of places I tend to walk to: walking to ARC or the farmers market

Speed humps and/or narrowing

I live at 802, on a short setback, and while most traffic moves at a reasonable pace, there's a significant minority that sees Spencer as a drag strip. 32 feet wide, parking on one side, and a straight, mostly level shot only adds to the temptation. Meanwhile, the lack of sidewalks and abundance of children playing means an accident is inevitable. Even in the meantime, every car zooming down at 50 or 60 mph is a nuisance and, frankly, disrespectful. Manor and Stewart, both well-to-do, got humps, doesn't Spencer deserve equal treatment?

Speed bumps or some other traffic calming device

My wife & I live at 510 Spencer and pulling out of our driveway is a nightmare. People speed through our street all the time and we're nervous about the kids playing in the street eventually getting hit. We're in favor of speed bumps or some other form of traffic calming on Spencer -- people treat our street like a highway.
