Hi David,

Thank you for your response, and for our clarity, Donna and I have reviewed and concur with, {CUP-165 -2025 -Plot Plan} for the additional (ADU), Common Accessory Structure as long as the current plan doesn't change and that it remains the same for the proposed footprint, which would be approximately, 755 square feet (not feet in length or perimeter, which is how it's interpreted), per the applicant's provided plot plan, with the {ADU}, and that it cannot be greater than 24 feet tall, or taller than the principal structure on that property, of (their detached single-family home, that they intend to demolish and reconstruct, per the attached plot plan in the previous email sent to us, and that it cannot be any greater than 800 square feet total, per the use-specific standards.

Additionally, (the structure's driveway), is proposed to be around, 35 feet from our western property line, and that the structure itself would be around, 75 feet from the Western property line.

Respectfully,

Sanford & Donna Thornton.
