Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

I was shocked by recent event of a family including 2 children dying in a fire in their low income housing. The building did not have working fire alarms. Low income housing deserves the same safety, dignity and respect as other housing, while remaining affordable for renters. I personally live in a low income housing and hoping my rent will not increase if my landlord improves the safety of the building.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Rent is increasing throughout COMO and it is almost impossible to keep up.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

There are a lot of good paying jobs in those vocations but it can be hard for folks to get into them because of lack of focus on them as career options in high school and college, and because some of them "appear" to require certificates of vocational training typically provided by for-profit private educational institutions that mostly scam poor people into taking out loans to pay for those vocational training certificates. Our schools and libraries could and should provide those training certificates free of charge if possible or at seriously discounted rates (just enough to support the instructors that provide the training)

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Small businesses were heavily impacted in the community during COVID and I feel it is of utmost importance that this funding help preserve/introduce small businesses to the community. Small personal owned businesses are what make a community desirable to live in and help keep the city alive. A lot of small businesses were either shut down or unable to get off of the ground due to COVID and other factors beyond their control. I feel as though it is important to let those businesses/potential business know that Columbia wants them in their community and we are here for their success. I don't want downtown Broadway to look like every other small town's main street or downtown STL with boarded up windows and vacant buildings.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

I think that fixing and adding sidewalks makes neighborhoods safer and more accessible for use, and it allows people to access transportation in a safer way. It makes the city at large safer for pedestrians and those who have transportation challenges, or who simply prefer to walk or bike due to health and environmental reasons. We have a big city but only certain parts are walkable and this needs to be fixed! Como Livable streets campaign is working hard on this and it is amazing!

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Personally, we have minimal sidewalks in my neighborhood. This makes it difficult to go on walks with my dog, as I have to be in the streets, and it makes it basically impossible to take my two children on walks or biking as they cannot be in the streets.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

We need to get homeless people off the streets and into shelters/facilities that can provide services needed to help them become productive members of society. Homeless camps, where mental illness festers leading to people being thrown off bridges, should be cleaned up and new homeless camps should not be allowed to establish. Law enforcement needs to be a component of this.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Law enforcement is not doing enough to get homeless people off the streets and out of the camps.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

I work closely with the homeless population in Columbia and I feel the need for a 24/7 facility that they can go to. During the day time their option is the library. Having a dedicated place they can go could take some of the pressure off of other community organizations that are providing this service to them now.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Lack of affordable rental housing, low income population is too low income to be able to afford anything on the market and the supply and demand of vouchers does not match the supply of affordable housing units that will accept vouchers.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Both of the items I ranked number 1 seem like the most direct ways to address the issues associated with a lack of affordable housing.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

As a small business owner, I've been struck by the amount of red tape there is when it comes to affordable housing. I renovated a property and wanted to expand it to have another rental unit, but P&Z said I couldn't, so I'm planning to move elsewhere.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Almost all the new houses being built are unaffordable. I would love to be able to live close enough to the city center to ride my bike or walk to work and take my child to school, but all available inventory is either too expensive or in almost unlivable condition. Being forced to purchase a home far from the city center means families of modest means experience increased costs for transportation on top of expensive mortgages and rent. I don't think most private companies are motivated to build affordable housing so I would like the government to expand their role.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Lack of available public transportation options combined with unaffordable housing costs.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Every affordable place I have found close to my work downtown is full of mold. Every place new enough not to have mold is several miles away from downtown, which is a long commute. The gross, unhealthy places downtown need to be cleaned up, but replaced with places that are equally affordable. All the new construction close to downtown is prohibitively expensive.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

There is no reliable public transportation during all the hours of the day needed to make living farther from downtown sustainable.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

#1 Increasing housing & food vouchers. #2 Long term, City sidewalks-solid passage from low income housing to bus stops is vital yet a basic need for wheelchair bound individuals. The Ash st. bus stop, 2 blocks NE of City Hall, does not have a wheelchair accessible entrance onto the side walk causing wheelchair bound individuals the conundrum of sitting in the roadway. Solid sidewalks w shelter from the sun at bus stops is basic yet non existing here.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

I work in downtown Columbia and see the homeless population on a daily basis. People live in the parking garages, hang their clothes in the stairway and camp out in tents off of Hwy 63/70. People need basic shelter. The City of Columbia down payment assistance program should look at revising their income limits. Not very many people can qualify when the income limit for a joint couple is $56,350 yet a single person is $49,300.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

I think it is important to give people the opportunity and training to help support themselves. That way once they are back on their feet with some assistance from the City, they are more likely to remain on their feet and not just continue to need the assistance of the City. It would help build a better society as people take care of their living conditions better when they own their houses.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

I have no barriers. I feel like the barriers that lower income individuals are facing are skills training, not knowing that their are skills training available, and child care for families. Child care assistance would be a huge hlep to young families.

It would benefit the entire community, not just a focused population. Also, teaching unhoused some skills allows them to become active participants in our community.....and benefits their productivity in the long run. We certainly need to continue to provide benefits to low income/unhoused etc....however, as the old saying goes, "If you give a man a fish, you feed him for a day. If you teach a man to fish, you feed him for a lifetime".

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

I have work for the City of Columbia 12 yrs. and I work a side business 9 yrs. Most people need 2-3 incomes to live and buy a house unless they make 60k-70k a yr. I think it's important for people to buy a newer home if possible to enjoy what they are working for. Trade school and college can help along with a good work ethics the interest rate and down payment affect the final monthly payment so help in those areas can keep monthly payments down and more affordable.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

If I didn't work 2 jobs I couldn't afford a decent home.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

There is a serious issue with housing in Columbia. The houses are too expensive at too low of quality. Even affordable houses are in terrible condition. Rent is too high for places in horrible conditions and the housing market is almost nonexistent. There are far too many rentals in Columbia, leaving the buyers market to struggle. There seriously needs to be a cap on rentals in Columbia.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

The only way to really help people is to provide them with the tools to help themselves in the the future. This is done best by providing them with knowledge and skills to become productive members of society. The other options are just tools to continue to enable them by city and government programs. Low interest loans to people that can't afford to pay them back will only hurt. Give them the ability to make money is the only honest way to use this money to benefit both the homeless and the people that pay taxes to fund these programs. Also, you need to provide mental health and drug use interventions so they will choose to stay in the workforce once they are employable.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Too much enabling and free handouts. There are no incentives to actually be productive members of our society. There are no punishments for being a deadbeat in Columbia.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Columbias homeless population is large and underserved. For the second question I picked building a facility to house them when needed. As of right now there are little to no places for these persons to go. Especially in the winter months when it is below freezing and so unsafe for them to be outside. For the first question providing them rental vouchers and helping them find a place to live is the first step in helping this population. Having a home address will allow them to get a bank account making it easier to get a job.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

As of right now I don't feel that I personally feel these barriers.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

It provides a sustainable solution to assist individuals with housing assistance. I support programs that provide downpayment assistance with a requirement for the individual to reside in the home a minimum number of years or repay the loan if the home is sold. The problem with most programs is there is no follow up to ensure the program criteria for the downpayment assistance continue to be met.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

The attempts to provide support and housing for chronically homeless individuals undermines the ability to provide services to individuals who need assistance with affordable housing for family stability and a fresh start.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

The process that is in place in today's rental applications is pretty ridiculous and then once you're finally in a rental, then the property management pushes that you sign a lease for the next year within 1-2 months of being in current lease which is very stressful. If I don't sign then they start showing my place for the next year which I find very unprofessional and unfair. I can see them wanting to know within 2-3 months from the end of the lease, but not 1-2 months into a new lease. I think that property owners and property management companies should be regulated more by the City.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Landlord/property management companies are not fixing what needs to be fixed which in turn leads to higher utility and/or bills for tenants. .

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

If current landlords of vulnerable populations are held accountable for adequate living habitats then we could expect true community enrichment to happen in these various spaces. Currently, Wards 2 and 3 have dilapidated neighborhoods that could be improved upon with the held accountability of the property owners and the resource traffic to those who inhabit the neighborhoods.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

The biggest barriers are first adequate, approved, and verified representation of the vulnerable populations and then follow through and implementation of the recommendations from the communities representatives.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Home ownership is expensive and maintaining and improving a home can be difficult, especially when there are life changing events (change or loss of job, adding a new family member, losing a family member). I've been around long enough to see these affordable home projects come to fruition and then watch these areas steadily decline as home owners are unable to maintain their homes. Offering education, incentives, and assistance is imperative to keep the low to moderate housing areas in good shape and attract people that want to work and improve the communities in which they live.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Unwilling to help people maintain their properties. Predatory capitalist that come in and buy affordable homes for rentals and charge premium prices and then don't maintain the properties.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

More support to small businesses who generate sales and taxes should take a higher priority over housing homeless who contribute little to nothing while straining resources.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Too much funding and resources are provided for homeless. They are better taken care of than tax paying/law abiding citizens. Begging at every stop light and litter makes stopping in this town less desirable.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Finding affordable housing is becoming more and more difficult to find in Columbia. Even more difficult is finding housing that will take a voucher. Landlords are becoming less willing to do this. Selling off properties to others and then the new owners want nothing to do with this. Along with this, what is available to rent is in terrible conditions. Low income housing that "pass" inspections but smoke detectors don't work, flooding, mold that cannot be seen. There needs to be better effort by the city to inspect and sanction landlords or what I like to call "slumlords." We are giving the appearance as a community that we do not care and everything is just talk and no action.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

No accountablilty by city officials. Want to blame those who are fighting the good fight and working with mental illness and substance use and call the state to complain they are not doing enough. I don't see city officials tromping thought the woods.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Missouri has recently passed a law to make it illegal to sleep on state-owned land. We need to support our unhoused community members by providing them with somewhere to sleep, since the state is taking away their access to many places where they sleep now.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

I don't experience any barriers where I live. I want everyone in Columbia to experience the same ease of living that I do. I know that's not just the city's responsibility, but that's my dream.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

I am a young disabled person who cannot go up and down stairs. Most rental properties have several stairs and are not ADA-compliant. This makes it hard for people with disabilities of all ages to find a place to live and be independent. The cost of rent has also increased and certain people who are on fixed incomes cannot pay $800 - $1,000 or more a month for a one or two-bedroom to house their families. We also do not have the income to cover three times the rent as most rental applications ask for. We deserve to live within our community and not be segregated into certain areas or housing.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Rent was $680 a month and I was already struggling to pay. In 2022 rent went up $120 to $800. Thank God for the SAFHR program! Now, that program is no longer available. Rent is increasing to $850 this year for a two bedroom on one level.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

The city is in need of both affordable owned homes and rentals. We are seeing rental rates increase at a fast and untenable pace. This will lead to more folks becoming unhoused. The need for services and shelter will grow.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Small, affordable homes aren't being built and those that do exist are being bought up by property managing groups.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Providing resources, housing and employment services to our unsheltered neighbors can alleviate the burden on the health care system and judicial system while simultaneously positively impacting our economy. I also believe homeownership should be accessible to all citizens. If we can move renters that are able to demonstrate financial stability (regardless of their household income) into their own homes, the rental units will then be available for the next cycle of renters.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

I have lived in the same rental unit for 14 years. I have 2 children- one is now in college (and lives at home) and the other is a senior in high school. I work full time. I would like to be a homeowner but don't know where to begin.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Because there are so many old uninhabitable homes, in Columbia, used as drug dens for homeless and runaways. Many of these homes are also used for sexual exploitation. Runaways and those that have left home early, and have fallen on hard times tend to meet other teens in the same situation, and get involved in selling themselves in exchange for drug habits or money for things like cigarettes, and food. I know this for a fact has been going on since 1996 when I first arrived here and met children living together after they could not return home, or felt they could not return home after leaving and dropping out of school. I have also known teens as young as 12 in Columbia, in this situation. I do not see anything on here that remotely addresses the teen drug and sex problem. When going through the Stephens College Counseling program, and completing internships in both Hickman and Rockbridge, I learned 70% of all Hickman students were sexually active. Of those sexually active students 76% had herpies, three had HIV and one had aids. None of which were sharing this information with partners. Rockbridge, on the other hand, had a large drug problem. Columbia has a large homeless problem, primarily due to dual diagnosis or co-occurring diagnosis. Working with the homeless population, many are milking a system, which allows them to consistently tear up homes, be evicted, and go right back into the system. When will the problem be addressed, instead of using a Band-Aid solution? Get them off the street, then address why and how to prevent it, or start with ways to prevent it, in the beginning. What have we come to with students demanding they are cats, and winning lawsuits because we must respect their choices, instead of being adults and teaching children how to handle stress, bullying, and anxiety, which all of us face at times in life. Life is not easy, and all of us will experience everything life has to offer. We need to be taught what to do, and how to react, rather than cry, it was my parents. They were too strict. We have lost are sense of values and direction. Its okay to be accepting of all. Teach tolerance. If we are raising children to be themselves, and not conform to societies norms, then lets teach them, to accept the world is a scary place, and we need to be vigilant and work hard. Hard work pays and every child can make their dreams come true. Choose there dream job and never give up on the dream. Nobody is there for the children. Society demands we all work two and three jobs. They must be taught somewhere! Drag shows are designed for those over 21, not for impressionable middle schoolers. Lets just teach them sex at 12 is acceptable. The reason I hand out condoms for Halloween, when I live in Columbia! Now maybe I should hand out clean needles as well.

Q4.	What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?	Affordable rent for single individual housing. Columbia went on a greed rampage, and have began charging rent by the bedroom, forcing out families and single individuals. People no choice but to have roommates. Whether they are college students or elder

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

I believe that it is immoral that we have great prosperity here in Columbia, yet we have chronically unhoused people forced to live out in the elements. We should be pursuing housing-first policies and practices to help our most vulnerable people. But the next closest option on the list is improving our shelters, which the city pulled funding for this year.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

I am not experiencing barriers to services, but I am not the one in need of them.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

I was injured in December and became wheelchair-bound. I can't get my wheelchair out the door of my apartment building because the door doesn't have a button, the threshold is too high off the ground, and there are often cars blocking the only way out. Yet property managers insist it is "wheelchair accessible." I just want to go to work!

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Funding and workers for home repair/modification programs. Lacking power to make property owners comply with the ADA/FHA in a timely manner, if at all. More accessible, quality transportation.

9. Provide low interest loans to start new small businesses and provide technical assistance to existing business owners

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

I work with the homeless population in my line of work. There is a need for a 24/7 low barrier shelter to provide immediate relief for our community members experiencing homelessness and a short- to mid-term need for affordable housing for individuals transitioning from homelessness to residency. Housing Vouchers have less impact now that there is a shortage of landlords willing to accept them. A shelter and affordable housing address the needs more effectively for our community members experiencing homelessness.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Landlords unwilling to accept housing vouchers, student housing prioritization over unhoused community members, lack of rent control, lack of 24/7 homeless shelter.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

People without shelter need a safe shelter regardless of the temperature and time of day; it needs to be 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, open to anyone. Having people leave at 6 or 7 AM, especially in bad weather (too cold, too hot, rain/snow) and making them travel long distances often by walking is inhumane.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

My #1 is "Build new, affordable, owner-occupied housing" and I chose that because we finally qualified to buy a house, but then couldn't find anything habitable in Columbia in our price range. We now live in an adorable 3 bedroom house in Granite City, Illinois. Bye-bye CoMO, sad to see you go. At least we live in a blue state now.

9. Provide accessibility improvements to existing homes

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

When we moved to Columbia from out of state we noticed the large amount of rentals that were in very poor condition. We learned that these homes are rented to students and not upkept. There seem to be an abundance of homes in need of repair or even clearly falling apart. People need decent housing, including students and those making lower incomes. I think it would be wonderful to see older homes and neighborhoods restored and also be affordable . It would be important to make sure that these houses are not bought up by people wanting to rent them out for a profit.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

There is an abandoned house next to ours that is increasingly becoming an eyesore, but our family does not otherwise have a barrier to decent housing.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

The homeless rate in Missouri was estimated at 4,416 individuals in 2020, according to HUD. Over the years, the rate in Columbia has increased as well and as a community, I feel that is where we need to focus first. The amount of homeless in a community is a reflection of how well the community is addressing issues affecting the people within that community. We can do better!

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Funding is a huge barrier as we have ways to address the issue, but funding is so scarce for these issues which leaves the problem unsolved. Another barrier is access to the services that are available.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Our un-housed community has been neglected by the city. The city cannot continue to rely on individuals and groups of people to support this population.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

#1 There is no facility where holistic services can be available #2 The library cannot continue as a warming center # 3 There often is no warming center on weekends or holidays. #4 transportation needs to improve to support our un-housed community.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

There is no reason for a city this big to not have more resources for our unhoused population. They should be able to have shelter, food, and resources to help them on an individual basis.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

I feel that there is such low pay for many social service workers there is a lot of turnover. Keeping employees comfortable in their position will allow them to work with vulnerable populations and improve the community

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Because we are letting people lose toes by locking them out of warming facilities at dawn, if we even open them in the first place? They then have no way to get anywhere warm, because we don't have public transportation. (No, we don't.) And even if we do open the warming center doors, there are no bathrooms in places like Wabash. Because Matthes made even the city benches impossible to rest on. Because we are failing basic human decency.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Not in my back yard; getting hooked on details while people suffer; worrying more about CYA than human suffering.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

There is a terrible lack of affordable housing in Columbia- even if residents received a voucher, they wouldn't be able to find housing to accept that voucher. If the City bought old abandoned houses and refurbished them to either rent or sell to low income families, that would be amazing.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

I believe that constructing, expanding or renovating a facility to provide 24-hour services to chronically unhoused populations would be a great help to these individuals by giving them a safe space. The shelters that we currently have in Columbia do not have the capacity to house all of the unhoused individuals, leaving them with nowhere to go. Recently, there have been several issues in the news about the local homeless camps and having a designated facility for unhoused individuals would help eliminate the need for these camps. A 24-hour facility would provide a safe place for unhoused individuals during severe weather and could potentially help them become aware of additional resources that our community has available to them as well.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

The city is failing its unhoused population. Facilities are somewhere between inaccessible and non-existent and the city just doesn't seem to care. For instance, last summer, I attended a neighborhood meeting with councilman Lovelady and then-councilman Skala. Even in the evening, it was sweltering hot. When asked about providing cooling shelters, Skala said the city council would get to it later... August being the earliest. The earliest they would DISCUSS implementing a cooling shelter. He said this during the worst heat wave of the summer. "We'll get to it." This really exemplifies the city's attitude. Heat waves aren't a new phenomenon here; why didn't the city already have a plan in place? This degree of apathy from one of our more progressive council members was appalling. I want a city that takes ALL of its citizens into consideration. Many of the other options presented in this list are things the city already acknowledges and incorporates, but the unhoused appear to be an afterthought. That is part of why basic services for the unhoused are a top priority for me. Let's focus on those we have neglected and help get people off the streets - ideally into housing, but at least some accessible facilities people can shelter in so people don't needlessly suffer or die - and work up from there. Given the state legislature's increasingly hostile attitude toward unhoused people, this is more critical than ever. Let's get our fellow Columbians into housing before the state puts them in jail.

Q4.	What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?	See above re: apathy toward the unhoused population. The city's lack of initiative leads to a broader lack of understanding and empathy in the community.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

We need somewhere that our unhoused folks do not need to pack their things up and continuously move about town to have safe spaces from the weather or other factors. Providing one location for case management and other resources could centralize help for those folks and get them back on their feet quicker.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Locations currently available for unhoused folks do not have the capacity or resources to serve them (ex. Room at the Inn, Turning Point, Public Library) particularly during severe weather. This increases tensions and makes these locations unsafe.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

I'm not qualified to say which of the above are the most important and you might consider how you evaluate these responses with that in mind....I just know there are many homeless people in my immediate community, and not the people who live in the camps or on the streets. I know too many families who are moving between family members' spare rooms or couches, or even garages. The city can only do so much. We need a business community that is interested in the health and safety of all of our residents, especially the most vulnerable. The city is too deferential to the wealthy business community - many of whom have benefitted SUBSTANTIALLY from the vibrant community in Columbia that includes artists, musicians, writers, educators and other creative types - many of whom can't afford to live here anymore. We need the city to stop pretending they can fix this without that kind of help...it's cruel and misleading to make people feel like there are changes coming when whoever is reading this knows it's going to take a lot more than $1.6 million to address years of racism and entrenched policy that has impacted the Black community and other marginalized or vulnerable people and left them without safe and stable housing, and even safe and stable community places to gather. I also think you could stop asking for everyone's opinions - I know these surveys result in less than 100 responses and that is not worth the substantial delay in spending the existing ARPA money, for example. A minority of jerks will complain no matter what you do and it seems like the city has a backlog of projects to deal with - affordable housing is one of many issues.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

I work with many underserved populations. One of the major problems we have right now is a lack of affordable, quality housing. Time and time again I hear of people who are unhoused or are at risk of becoming unhoused due to the rising cost of rent. People want the security of owning their own homes. It is an investment. It makes them feel safer and less vulnerable.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Affordable Housing is the most acute need. Vouchers don't help if there aren't enough affordable rentals. Also this could help improve neighborhoods that are mostly low income and improve home values.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

I am retired and with adequate finances. I don't perceive barriers for myself, but I do see barriers for some of my grandchildren who live check to check.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Both of my number 1 rankings are about protecting the unhoused population in Columbia. We have the ability to provide a space and safe shelter to prevent people from dying of exposure. It is better to help them find jobs and medical care when they have housing. We need to be better about supporting our most vulnerable populations.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Much of Columbia has been focused on allowing high rise cheap apartment buildings and allowing for by the room rent. This luxury student housing is pricing locals out of their homes as landlords raise already inflated rent prices.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Those that truly want to improve their lives will, but oftentimes they simply need a little boost to open the door for that opportunity. FREE or affordable training and job placement helps people become independent and when you support yourself your desire to sustain that is far greater than when handed something for nothing. Addressing "homelessness" without extensive mental evaluation, treatment and support is like trying to swim without water. You'll get nowhere, as most don't want what cities will try and provide. Look at Portland, Seattle, Salt Lake City...I've personally seen the signs in all of these cities that literally say, "Please don't give food to panhandlers, we have warehouses of food for them rotting". I don't believe that's the culture this beautiful college town that obviously values education, with 3 higher ed institutions, wants to build. Rather, the value of education/training should be reflected in the government and the focus of spending. Old adages are long lasting because they are true; give a man a fish he eats once, teach him how to fish he eats for life. I HIGHLY support the education/training , mentoring, of people for jobs, life skills, and self sufficiency. One last point...when you give people things without any investment on their part, you're more or less saying they aren't capable of doing or being more. It's unintentional under-minding and deflating. The education/training/mentoring option is harder than building a building and sticking someone in it...by far!!! But the results will be more fruitful, healthier, and gratifying for each individual AND the community. Just look at mentally handicapped (Down Syndrome folks come to mind) they WANT to work. They have every excuse to say they "need" free housing, food, and support but I've yet to meet such an individual who would accept that. Regardless the spectrum an individual falls; able and unmotivated to work, motivated and without training and resources, Columbia will benefit across the board in setting an expectation for education and training, and investing in making it affordable, and providing the mentoring and health services that teach people it's value when they already lack it.

Q4.	What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?	None myself. I was an Afghanistan refugee volunteer and am currently a St. Vincent de Paul volunteer so I have had a lot of firsthand contact working with both the undermotivated, the mentally ill, and the ready but willing and without.

Job training for people who can make use of it, if the job exists, and if they can get the job after the training, bypasses the need for all the other elements on this list except bizarrely, storm water flood mitigation. Why is that one on here set against all the social programs?

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

I am lucky and do not need any of these for now. The barriers I hear people encounter most often are lack of availability (ex: does the housing exist?) and lack of transportation, and lack of personal motivation/supportive environment to follow through.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Many times a lack of transportation is what prevents vulnerable population from staying gainfully employed, accessing community services, government offices, healthcare facilities, or lower-cost shopping alternatives. By constructing sidewalks and crosswalks (plus bike lines) we give people who do not drive or do not have access to a car the ability to connect with these services. An option I would have loved to see above it to provide transit system improvements, like schedule connection to Google maps or facility improvements.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

I have to speak of my past: Lack of transportation, lack of low-cost education opportunities and lack of affrodable housing in a save environment for children..

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Our homeless population is growing in our community. This is due to many factors, such as lack of affordable housing options, criteria that is strict and unrealistic that singles out certain groups of people by socio-economic status and other identifiers. As a community, it is our responsibility to provide services and resources that are relevant to the people within our community.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Lack of access to information regarding how to address problems faced. There is also systems in place that prevent certain groups, such as Blacks, Hispanics, Felons, and low income households, from accessing services they need to meet their basic needs.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

I think that we should be encouraging home ownership over rental. Home ownership is one of the best ways to build equity/wealth and if housing is so expensive that it prohibits a large proportion of people from ever entering the market, then those people will forever be denied the ability to build wealth in this manner. At the same time, it is also important for those properties and neighborhoods to be well-maintained since the value of one's home is significantly tied into the quality of the homes around it.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Safe pedestrian access to not only schools but necessities like grocery stores encourages physical movement, creates an increase sense of community, and decreases dependence on fossil fuels that pollute our neighborhoods. Sidewalks are not only for vagrant & low income populations, every neighborhood in town could benefit from adding protected bike lanes and sidewalks for highly frequented paths. I live on Highridge Dr, less than 1/3 of a mile from a grocery store, yet have no sidewalk option to for safe transport. I have to dodge traffic whenever I want to leave my house as my neighborhood has NO sidewalks. Walkability is going to only increase in importance as Columbia grows, and prioritizing it now will increase the quality of life for the whole community.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

I was lucky enough to purchase a home before the inflationary period started, but I have relatives who are unable to find an affordable home in a safe part of town and more affordable housing options would be great.

9. Provide low interest loans to start new small businesses and provide technical assistance to existing business owners

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Renting and owning homes in Columbia is a huge problem. Rent is increasing at wild rates in part due to rental agencies buying up huge amounts of property and being able to gouge prices as they desire. Owning homes becomes even more difficult - especially for those in marginalized groups - as it's harder to save money when it's all going to rental expenses.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

I feel like the city of columbia doesn't prevent rental agencies from establishing a monopolized market and it's becoming frustrating in columbia finding places to live.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

We need more affordable housing for people with families, there is an abundance of housing options for students. Why not use buildings/homes already there that need upgrades/improvements? Not only that, people that have been living here for some time giving in taxes and boosting our economy for many years should have top priority. Programs geared towards people already with property needing assistance and structures already in place here should have top priority. We've spent many years building new things and catering to student populations, it's time put more focus on other areas.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

The only issue in the community I face currently is no sidewalks/shoulder on road around my house. There are areas that have them(new construction sites) and then areas that do not(neighborhoods that have been here a long time).

9. Construct, expand or renovate a facility to provide 24-hour services to chronically unhoused populations

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

We need affordable housing and most of the dilapidated homes are not candidates for rehab, they need to be torn down. The City is in the best position to subsidize the construction of low cost housing.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

The building code regulations are providing more road blocks than solving problems. They are increasing the costs at a time when we need to encourage more building. Preserving outdated housing is not efficient.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

Taking care of your local citizens and helping them to keep their homes is more important than trying to have more services to bring more homeless to this city. Help those that want and need help and let the others move on to another city. Many of the homeless are not local to columbia, they came here for all the free programs and they are trashing our city and then moving on to the next city. Allowing them to live on vacant land, pollute our water, do drugs and commit crime is just doing wrong for your tax paying citizens and local business owners.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

The city needs more mental health services and more police to help control the out of control crime rate in the city.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

My main concern is actually air quality. BAN WOODSTOVES IMMEDIATELY! People in my neighborhood have been dying and moving and at the center of it is one person who heats his home with wood. The air is so toxic outside and it gets into the house creating à torturous environment. I now have a respiratory disease and am certain it is a result of woodburning neighbos. And we live near downtown by an elementary school. Woodburning needs to be banned !!

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

With being on Section 8 programs the houses/duplexes are old and need repairing no matter how much we pay the landlords refuse to fix update anything because we are on Section 8. I want to get off this so I can have a beautiful home for my family that is not old and run down. Something I can afford.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Bad landlords, being judged for being in the program. Most of the section 8 homes are in bad low poverty neighborhoods and the homes are not affordable.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

I think home ownership is key to thriving communities. Most people take pride in things they own, things for which they are responsible. I think people should be able to own a dilapidated property, if they occupy the property.

Q4. What community barriers to these services do you feel you are experiencing?

Internet continues to be delivered on squirrel chewed DSL lines. With spotty internet services, education is difficult, bill paying is difficult, employment is difficult, etc.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

The storm drains need a total re-vamping. If driving through town on Providence, for instance, you cannot drive on the right in a rainstorm. It gets totally flooded. Other places in town are like that, too, but Providence is the worst. Also, the homeless situation in this community is awful. I see many people, even in winter, living on the streets out of grocery carts or whatever they have. They need a clean, safe place to go.

Q3. Please tell us more about your No. 1 ranking; why is it most important to you?

It's an eye sore seeing the dilapidated & abandoned houses plus depreciates the area. But with "affordable" construction it enhances the area and gives assistance to those that would not normally be able to afford home ownership on own. Then Columbia can prove it is proactive in providing affordability and cleaning up it's community in positive manner. 5/10/23.
